Justices of the Michigan Supreme Court,

I am a divorced father of two. The changes proposed for the "Child Support Formula Manual (ADM 2003-22-10 Shared Economic - Threshold and Cubing)" should be made.

This is not a perfect change, but putting more of the shared economic responsibility back on to the custodial parent is as I see it, a step in the right direction.

I have read many of the comments and concerns to this change and many will simply not happen. As for the many comments sent in, it is clear that many parents need to know what rights the non-custodial and custodial parent each has. Many have not read the proposed change or understand it clearly.

The change I would like to see and others too, would be a complete accountability of the money paid to, and spent by, the custodial parent. This would be the right thing to do. It can and should be done. I know of many non-custodial parents who are on hard times, and many more custodial parents who are not using the money as it should be.
